ON A DIET? MAYBE YOU DON'T NEED IT!

What we eat today we walk tomorrow. This is the opinion of many scientists who say health depends on the proper selection of foods. But dieting can be overcome and harm results unless you know what foods should be added or eliminated from your daily meals. Typical Sailor Has Lure

Eyes and Is 23 Years Old

NORFOLK, Va.—Officials of the fifth naval district report that the typical American sailor has a high school education, is unmarried and is 23 years old.

He prefers playing baseball to any other sport and is one of the first to be found enrolling in the various specialist schools.

The two men, brown hair and of medium build. He weighs 108 pounds, stands five feet ten in his stocking feet, is particular to wear his uniform according to regulations, and drinks coffee by the pot.

And, when he has done his hitch, usually goes back to his home town, settles down, marries and forgets about the sea—except on occasions. He also loves a fight. Since the war has broken out, the typical American sailor has shown more impatience to "get at them guys" than his brothers from other sections, which doesn't mean that he is any more loyal but has a harder time controlling his hot blood.

They are the pride of the navy, these typical American sailors, say officials.
